Who Is Eligible?

The SSA looks at medical and work history to determine who qualifies for SSDI benefits. Generally, to qualify for SSDI, you must:

-  Be between 21 and full retirement age
-  Have worked at least five of the last 10 years and paid FICA taxes during that time
-  Be unable to work in any capacity because of a mental or physical impairment that's expected to last at least 12 months or result in death
-  Be under the care of a healthcare professional who can confirm severity of medical condition(s)
